

Tell Us Your Student Loan Borrower Story

Personal stories put a face to the problem of borrowers struggling with student loan debt. Sharing a story about your personal experiences with student loans (payments, threats from a lender or servicer, etc.) will help us advocate for better consumer protection laws against unfair, deceptive and abusive practices!

If you are willing to share your story about student loan debt, please write it on the back of this form, give us a call, or email your story to us. We will not share your story without your permission, and can share it anonymously if you prefer.
